Bargaining Update from the College Employer Council, Nov 1

Dear Sheridan Community,

The following update is sent on behalf of the College Employer Council:

Ontario Colleges Act to End Strike

Call on OPSEU Academic to return to the bargaining table

Toronto, November 1, 2017: Ontario colleges have asked the provincially appointed mediator to bring the colleges and OPSEU Academic back to the table to resume bargaining on Thursday, November 2.

“This strike has gone on for too long. We need to end the strike and get our students and faculty back in the classroom. We can reach a settlement quickly and have classes start again early next week,” said Sonia Del Missier, Chair, Colleges’ Bargaining Team. “We will focus our efforts at the table and work very hard to reach a deal that ends the strike.”

No further commentary on bargaining will be provided beyond this statement.

Thank you for taking the time to read this message.
