Subject: Update on the Potential for a Faculty Strike

Dear Sheridan students,

As you may be aware, faculty at Ontario's 24 colleges, including Sheridan, voted yesterday in favour of a strike if a settlement is not reached by September 30, when the current collective agreement expires.

We understand that the possibility of a strike by faculty will raise concerns for you about the potential impact on your academic year.

Negotiations between OPSEU (the union representing faculty) and the College Employers Council (representing the 24 colleges) will resume on September 18, and we remain hopeful that a settlement will be reached.

In the event that a strike cannot be averted, please be assured that Sheridan will be committed to ensuring that you are able to achieve your academic goals.

If you are interested in learning more about the proposals put forward by both the colleges and the union, information can be found on the College Employers Council website and OPSEU's website.

We will keep you informed as further developments take place.
