

March 15, 2020

MEMORANDUM TO: Faculty of Applied Health and Community Studies (FAHCS) Students

SUBJECT: Student Field Placement and COVID-19 Update

Dear FAHCS Students:

As Sheridan continues to monitor the COVID-19 issue with a particular view of supporting your safety and well-being, we have made the difficult decision to cancel all field placement within the Faculty of Applied Health and Community Studies (FAHCS). Effective immediately, please do not attend your field placement until further notice. We understand that this decision has many implications and may cause an emotional reaction.

At this time, we would like to remind you of the student resources Sheridan has to support your health and well-being. Please visit <https://www.sheridancollege.ca/life-at-sheridan/student-services> to see the support services offered at Sheridan.

We are committed to supporting you and your learning now and in the future. As such, we have already engaged with the faculty and begun to assess and design a plan for how placements will proceed. You will receive more information from the program or Associate Dean in the near future.

For up-to-date information regarding Sheridan's response to COVID-19 and for links to public health information, please see Sheridan's COVID-19 webpage.

As always, our FAHCS experiential learning team is here to support you.

Kind regards,

Lindsay Anderson, RN, PhD
Director, Clinical and Experiential Learning
Faculty of Applied Health and Community Studies
Email: lindsay.anderson@sheridancollege.ca

Michael O'Leary, Ph.D.
Dean
Faculty of Applied Health and Community
Studies