

Message from Sheridan President and Vice Chancellor Dr. Janet Morrison – March 13, 2020

I want to assure everybody that we continue to monitor the situation regarding COVID-19 and that we all appreciate the amount of uncertainty and anxiety it's causing.

You'll know from your personal experience that this situation remains very fluid, with updates coming almost hourly from municipal, provincial and federal agencies. Those are the people that we're relying on to inform our pandemic planning.

At Sheridan, community safety is always our number one priority. Please rest assured that we will continue to communicate as openly and as often as we can. I am, however, asking everyone to use their best judgment in these very turbulent times.

Finally, please take care of yourself, and be kind to others. Again, when things get tough, we need to step up, stand tall and live our values. Thank you very much.
