

Important Information

From our Director & Associate Director

Dear ,

I hope you and your families are staying well during this concerning and rapidly changing pandemic. We want to take this opportunity to thank all of our students for their continued patience and understanding during this unprecedented time. The respect, kindness, and professionalism that has and continues to be demonstrated by you while working with faculty, student peers, and the larger Sheridan community is phenomenal. Together, we can and will persevere.

We understand and empathize that these are uncertain times which can create ongoing anxiety and stress in our students' personal and professional lives. Additionally, we appreciate that there are a lot of questions and concerns related to continuing your education. Please find information below that may address some of your questions.

We acknowledge that for many of us, working and learning in a virtual community is a new experience. We are committed to helping you achieve your educational and career goals, regardless of the format it may take.

Remember, we are here to support you. Please do not hesitate to reach out with any questions or concerns.

On behalf of your Continuing and Professional Studies team, be well, healthy, and safe.

Thank you,

Nazlin Hirji, Executive Director, Continuing and Professional Studies

Emma Gibbons, Associate Director, Continuing and Professional Studies

Frequently Asked Questions

Are your offices open?

For those who are continuing their education with us, we thank you and offer you our unwavering support during this time. We are ready to help all of our students and faculty. While our physical offices may be closed, our team is available via email during normal business hours (9 a.m. to 5 p.m.). You may also leave a message at 905 845-9430 ext. 2690 including your email address for us to get back to you.

When does my course resume?

As of March 23rd, all of our winter classes have been modified to online or alternate delivery methods. We have done this to adhere to the social distancing requirements to limit transmission of the virus.

How can I get in touch with my instructor?

You can find your instructor's email in SLATE under the Class list. Alternatively, you can email caps@sheridancollege.ca. Instructors will be getting in touch with students via their SLATE email and SLATE class in the upcoming days. We ask students to monitor their SLATE account regularly for any course updates.

Will we finish our semester on time?

With the newly modified delivery methods, we are committed to finishing a large majority of our classes on time. You will find specific information on your class SLATE site.

What resources are available to me during this time?

There are many Sheridan resources available online. Some resources available to students include:

- Library: Sheridan's online digital resources continue to be available to students, with library staff available via instant chat.
- Tutoring: Tutoring has moved to online sessions which can be held via WebEx.
- Online Learning Hub: Our Learning & Study Tools Hub is designed to help students transition to an online learning environment, with helpful tips and tricks for time management, taking notes, taking tests, and more.
- Health & Safety: Sheridan's Student Wellness team continues to operate and provides many different applications to aide with student physical and mental health.
- SLATE: The SLATE Help Centre continues to operate and provide students with helpful tips and tricks for navigating our online learning environment.

Where can I continue to learn more about Sheridan College's Coronavirus (COVID-19) response?

We encourage students and faculty to continue to monitor our dedicated Coronavirus \(COVID-19\) response page. Further, we encourage students to watch this video message from our President Janet Morrison, addressing students directly.
